The Honorable Robert A. Lovett
 The Secretary of Defense
 Washington 25, D. C.

My dear Mr. Secretary:

25X1

It is urgently requested that the tour of duty of [redacted]
 [redacted] U.S.A., ORD, [redacted] with the Central Intelligence Agency be extended. In June 1951, extension of his tour was approved for one year with the proviso granted that consideration would be given to a request at a later date for further extension.

25X1

The duties [redacted] now performs with this Agency require extensive and detailed knowledge and broad experience in the fields of theoretical and applied nuclear physics. The availability of personnel with such qualifications for full time employment by this Agency is very limited, and efforts to procure an equally qualified or even a passable replacement have thus far been unsuccessful. [redacted] has served with distinction as a high level scientific advisor to this Agency since his transfer from the [redacted] in February 1947.

25X1

He possesses a Ph.D. degree in nuclear physics and has competently taught the subject. When he was with the [redacted] he was responsible for technical operations at [redacted]

25X1

[redacted] and, as a member of this Agency, he is senior adviser to the Technical Director at each of the atomic weapons testing programs.

25X1

Further, [redacted] combines a broad knowledge of scientific problems and their relationship to intelligence with a knack for translating his views into readily understandable terms. This, in itself, is a rare talent; in the field of nuclear physics, such talent is particularly valuable to this Agency.

[redacted] has expressed the desire to remain with the Central Intelligence Agency as long as his services are needed. With the understanding that he would be available for temporary duty with the Department of Defense as needed for special activities, it is my opinion that the country's security would be best served by authorizing his continued duty with this Agency for an additional year.

Sincerely,

SIGNS

Walter B. Smith
Director
